

Plans Formulated For Impending Student Voting

Plans for the forthcoming election of student body president were the main article of business on the agenda of the Executive Committee last Tuesday night.

Voting is to be held in Main hall on Friday, May 2. All candidates will present their platforms in Convocation on Thursday, May 1.

Petitions, bearing the signatures of fifty members of the student body, must be presented to Larry Storms by each candidate before 7:00 p. m. Tuesday, April 15.

Owing to the difficulty of estimating the cost of campaign expenses and controlling the sources of funds supporting the candidates, it was decided not to limit the amount spent by each faction.

Rules regarding campaigning, taken from the by-laws of the constitution, are as follows:

1. All factions concerned are entitled to equal rights regarding the printing of campaign material in the "Lawrentian" provided that accepted journalistic practices are adhered to.

2. No campaign posters will be allowed in the basement of Main Hall if the polls are located in Room 7. In case the polls are situated elsewhere (the location to be designated by the Executive Committee), no campaign posters will be permitted within fifty feet of the ballot boxes.

3. No attempts will be made to purchase any votes in any manner whatsoever, nor will any attempts to influence a student's vote, except in the customary manner, be permitted.

Balloting, under the direction of representatives of the Executive Committee, will be held from 8:45 a. m. to 12:00 m. and from 1:15 to 3:00 p. m. on May 2. Counting of the votes will proceed immediately thereafter.

Following this item of business, Fred Atkinson and Coach Denny laid out tentative plans for student participation during Centennial Weekend, June 5-8. Both spectator events and those of general participation are to be included in the program for Students' Observance Day, Thursday, June 5. The "L" club and WRA are sponsoring and planning the athletic activities. A museum display, showing the developments of various campus organizations and academic departments, is being considered as a student project for the first floor of Main Hall.

Divers methods of raising money for the Union fund were suggested and discussed. It was further decided that snow sculpturing would be canceled for this year, due to lagging enthusiasm and unfavorable weather conditions.

Faculty Record is One of Achievement

(Here is the final installation of a series of two stories on faculty accomplishments by Ina Guyer. These articles represent a great deal of research since only a little of the material has been compiled by the school, and none of it filed. Much of the source material was worded ambiguously, leading to complications, and the author is to be commended for her industriousness.)

Up to this point many of the faculty members in the science department have been neglected so now we will turn to them.

Among the "American Men of Science" are Dr. Darling, Dr. Gilbert, Mr. Brown and Dr. Berry.

Dr. Darling, professor of chemistry, received his B. S. and M. S. from the University of Minnesota, his M. A. and Ph. D. from Harvard university and has also studied at the University of Vienna. His name appears in the official Who's Who among the young men of the nation. He is a member of Alpha Chi Sigma, Gamma Alpha, Sigma Xi, Phi Lambda Psi and a research organization. Dr. Darling has written a "Laboratory Preparation of DDT." He is active in work among the local co-operatives.

Receiving his B. A. from Oberlin college and his Ph. D. from Cornell university, Dr. Gilbert, professor of physics, has also taught physics at both Oberlin and Cornell. In the summer of 1942 he was an instructor in the Institute of Paper Chemistry. During the spring and summer of 1945 he made a report on work at the institute on "Spectrographic Determination of Lead in Dry Yeast Samples." Dr. Gilbert is a member of Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Beta Kappa.

Associate professor of biology, Mr. Brown received his B. A. from Albion college and his Ph. D. from Yale university. Prior to his coming to Lawrence, Mr. Brown was an instructor in zoology at De Pauw university in 1938 and 1939 and taught biological science at Cumberland College in 1940. He is a member of Sigma Xi.

Professor of mathematics is Dr. Berry who in 1945 was awarded the Medal of Freedom, an army award for exceptional service rendered by civilians in combat zones. Mr. Berry drew up plans for a belt machine gun sight and flexible mounts. He attained his B. A., M. A. and Ph. D. from Harvard university and did additional work at Brown and Princeton universities. Dr. Berry was an instructor of mathematics at Harvard and also an instructor at Columbia.

Mr. Rogers, professor of biology, attained his B. A. at James Millikin university and also did work at the Universities of Michigan and Chicago. Mr. Rogers previously was a professor of biology at Westminster college, Pa., an instructor at the Institute of Paper Chemistry and a field assistant in the laboratory of plant pathology of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Among some of his writing appear "Ice Storms and Trees," and "Tree Flowers of Forest, Park and Street," with drawings from nature by Miss Smith. This last piece of writing has been reviewed in books, maga-

Prize Will be Given for Best Poetic Attempt

A competition for an original poem suitable for a Wisconsin song has been announced by the Music committee and the Committee on Education for the Wisconsin centennial of 1948. Poems in any form will be considered.

The poem should be two or three verses in length (no more than four) and should combine dignity, beauty and simplicity. The verses may be followed by a repeated refrain.

Poems will be judged and the best made available to Wisconsin composers for musical settings. The best completed song will be used throughout the state during the 1948 celebrations. Suitable awards will be made for the best poem of poems selection.

The contest for poems will close June 1, 1947. Poems will not be returned unless a stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed with each entry. All poems should be sent to LaVerne Peterson, Chairman Composer's Group, 616 Scott Street, Wausau, Wisconsin.

LAWRENTIAN

VOL. 66, NO. 23 LAWRENCE COLLEGE, APPLETON, WIS. Friday, March 28, 1947

Outline Centennial Week Plans With Student Day Highlighted

A full and interesting program for the Centennial Observance Week End of June 5-8 awaits students and alumni who wish to avail themselves of it. For any students who plan to remain on campus after the end of the scheduled examination period in order to attend the functions of the centennial observance the college is leaving the dorms open. Meals will also be served to interested students without additional charge.

A day in the calendar of events for the weekend which ought to be of particular interest to Lawrence students is Thursday, June 5. The day will be called Student Centennial Day inasmuch as students will be both the planners and the participators of the day's activities. Initial steps toward making plans have been taken, but further suggestions or indications of approval of the present tentative program will be welcomed by Fred Atkinson and by the organizing groups, W.R.A. and the "L" Club.

Suggestions which came from the executive committee in their meeting Tuesday night were for a tennis exhibition in the morning which would feature tennis champs from elsewhere matched against Lawrence's best. A student picnic at noon could be followed by mixed outdoor and indoor sports at Alexander gym, faculty-student baseball, relays, and swimming.

The evening's activities might center in the quad where the possibility of an all-college sing is considered, sororities and fraternities competing against one another. A street dance could complete the evening's program.

The calendar of events for the days following Student Centennial Day is listed below. The names of the speakers will be announced at a later date and there will be a few additions to the calendar itself.

Lawrence WSSF Contributions At Top of College Donations

The $2280 or more contributed by Lawrence college in the recent W. S. S. F. Drive shares honors for top donation from mid-west colleges with Macalester college, Minnesota whose total was $2300.47, according to a central office report dated March 7, 1947. Macalester has a larger enrollment.

Although the Lawrence total is not yet listed, it is well up with contributions from all mid-western colleges and universities whose totals were published in the report. Third highest total from a college was the twelve-hundred and more sent by DePauw. Only three other colleges in the region climbed over a thousand in their drives.

Beloit came through with $321.46, Cornell with an even thousand, Carroll sent $466.50 and Grinnell, which plans to augment its donation, has sent $408.

Lawrence rates well with mid-western universities also. The University of Illinois, enrollment 18,000, led with $5,000. The University of Wisconsin, with an enrollment of 18,743, sent $4,604.58, promising more, to take second place of the universities. Next Ohio State University, with over 26,000 students, contributed with $4,496.75. Fourth was the University of Michigan's 18,000 students who sent $4,153. Lawrence trailed by just a little both Purdue and Northwestern, both of whom have over seven times as many students.

Bellin Will Lead Sunset

Newly elected president of Sunset, honorary dramatics society, was Stuart Bellin whose office was affirmed last week. Vice-president is George Larsen, and Leni Spalding is the new secretary-treasurer.

Sunset is now considering candidates for membership who will be elected and initiated after vacation.

On the agenda are several plays which are being analysed as perspective productions by Sunset as a group.

Yearbook Is Nearly Done

Positions on Next Year's Ariel Now Open to Students

"The big job is almost over," announced "Bucky" Schieder-mayer, editor of the "Ariel," referring to the yearbook. About nine tenths of the book is at the printers and the cover has already been chosen. He hopes the students will receive their copies by May 20. "The strain wasn't too bad," he said pointing to some paper dolls pinned to the bulletin board.

All students interested in next year's positions of editor, business manager, chief photographer and assistant photographer should submit applications to the "Ariel" office. These are all paying positions. The applications will be considered by the "Ariel" Board of Control consisting of "Bucky" Schieder-mayer, Bob Curry, Larry Storms, Mr. DuShane and Mr. Watts, after spring vacation. All minor positions will be chosen by next year's editor.

WAA Bows Out to WRA New Constitution Okay

The Women's Athletic Association is dead and will be superseded by Women's Recreation Association. This new body came into being with the revision of the constitution of the old association. The new constitution was accepted by the W. R. A. Board on March 18, 1947 to become effective immediately.

Some of the more important changes are: Article I, Section II—The name of this association shall be the Women's Recreation Association of Lawrence college.

Article II, Section II—To become an active member, or to retain active membership, one must earn participation credit in two sports, either in one semester or in two semesters.

Article III, Section II makes provision for the sports managers to be members of the board.

Article III, Section VII—The election of officers to the W. R. A. Board shall take place at the beginning of the second semester of every year, and the vote shall be made by all active members of the association.

Article III, Section IX—Vacancy in any office shall be filled by an election by the Board at the first meeting after the vacancy is known.

The point system for individual awards has changed. Beginning with the class of 1950 participation medals will be awarded instead of sweaters. The new point system is contained in Article III of the by-laws which says:

Section I:
One (1) point shall be given for participation in the interclass tournament.

One (1) point shall be given for participation in the inter-sorority tournament.

One (1) point shall be given for Class Team Standing.

Two (2) points shall be given for Varsity Team Standing.

One (1) point shall be given for officiating at four (4) games. The games shall be cumulative.

Section 2:
Sixty (60) points shall entitle a girl to a participation medal.

Editor Thanks Staff Members For Success of 1946-47 Lawrentian

Last week the staff as a whole said its farewells to the college generation of 1946-47 that it has written for so faithfully. This week the editor would like publically to commend and bid goodbye to that same staff which has made the "Lawrentian" possible all these past months. In the rush of getting copy ready each week one often forgets to thank those of you responsible for jobs well done, completed at the expense of study and social life, jobs which are often unnoticed or unknown to the campus at large.

I owe a great debt to George MacKinnon, business manager, who, in spite of his allergy to "females" in the editorship, cooperated and worked to turn in one of the best jobs ever done by a business manager at this school. Last year George worked under Bob Wilson to learn to know personally almost every one of his local advertisers and he has continued to show a genuine interest in them. This interest, plus the long hours devoted to laying out ads, paid dividends as we enlarged our advertising contracts per advertiser and reached new contacts. George was ably assisted by Ken Davis and the rest of his staff.

After the paper is put to bed we often forget that another job remains to be done, that of circulation. Doris Treviranus and her staff gave out copies each week to dormitories and town students and then came back after lunch to wrap and mail copies to advertisers and subscribers.

One of the hardest jobs on any "rag" is that of makeup editor. As such, Georgia Lipke worked each Thursday afternoon at the Post-Crescent, trying to fit stories to the places assigned them, to decide which should be left out and which were important to be left in if there was too much copy. The contents of the pages and their appearances are her responsibility. Later her proof-reading staff has to read each line of all eight pages, checking for mistakes and errors. There is a thankless task, unpaid, out of contact with the excitement of working on week nights in the office, and they did it well.

Here in the office the editor's right hand was Maurice Brown, full of enthusiasm and eager to work. "Maurie" carried copy to the Post-Crescent more than his share of cold nights, he worked in any one of a dozen capacities under pressure, he gave valuable suggestions as to organizational procedure and he was generally invaluable.

Making assignments to reporters each week were Jean vanHengel and later Pat Hamar, who joined her. They saw that no facet of campus life was untouched, that their reporters got stories in on time, that they came to reporters' school, and that there was copy for each "Lawrentian." Their industry and responsibility were especially commendable.

And no less commendable was Fritz Heine-mann who assigned features to his staff each week, covering a variety of topics. Also having a free reign in assigning was Dave Brooker, sports editor, who organized his staff, made his own assignments, and did not a little of the writing himself.

All of the departmental editors and reporters and feature writers spared no time or effort in tracking down stories, writing, typing and coming down to offer their services in any capacity.

Any editor is more conscious of the office staff, perhaps out of proportion to the work done by others, but this year's has been especially fine. Few students realize that each week eight to ten students give numerous hours to writing headlines, checking copy, typing, and

"Let's Do Fewer Things And Do Them Better"

"I just haven't a thing to do. This school's getting so dull. Suppose we could go to the movies tonight?" This attitude is wide-spread among a large segment of the student body, a segment that finds large chunks of time unfilled but which gives no energy to student extra-curricular activities that enrich our existence at Lawrence. At the opposite end of the pole are students who have proved responsible in the past and as a reward find that most campus offices, responsibilities and duties are concentrated under their direction. These students are capable; they are the students who enjoy classwork. Yet they bitterly complain against a system that robs them of time to do any one job competently and a system that leaves no time to apply the study and analysis they think necessary for classwork.

Here we obviously have a dislocation of responsibility. When corrections are suggested many of the "big wheels" claim that other students display no interest, show no initiative, and devote little time to the work. They feel that under these conditions they cannot delegate responsibility. Yet their attitude kills enthusiasm of others to help, discourages trainees, and leaves all the duties heaped on their overworked shoulders.

One of the primary purposes of an extra-curricular program is to extend classroom learning into fields of practical experience and to add to the enjoyment of college life. If the sponsored activities attract only a nominal percentage of students they are falling short of their avowed purpose; if they demand too much of particular individuals, the activities are actually harmful to the pursuing of a college education.

We have heard of colleges where students were limited in the number of offices and activities they might carry at once. In such institutions a concentrated effort is made to create interest in such programs among all students. The colleges also correlate the extra-curricular work with the classroom study, the professors and administration fostering after-hours work to extend the stimulation of classes. Here the reverse might be true. Activities are considered by many on the administration side to be detrimental to the type of intellectual endeavor we want. For that reason they discourage them or ignore them.

Student and faculty ought to work for more meaningful activities. As Mr. Troyer said recently, "We should do fewer things and do them better."

the many little jobs that go into making up a paper. Janet Fancher, Nancy Wood, Betty Jean Czirr, Tekla Bekkedal, Mary Ruth Holmes, Carol Butts, Gail Outland, Diana Bartle, Betty Kwasny and others were here every week on the copy desk. Phyllis Leverenz and Shirley Hanson applied elbow grease on Wednesday afternoons. Busy headline writers were led by Cal Stowell whose crew consisted of Laury Eise-man, Carl Laumann and Bob Fall. Four typists kept busy.

Now we are through. Many of us will be back in new jobs or working at the old ones. Many of you on the paper expect no praise or recognition, only a new batch of assignments each week. It is people like you to whom the credit for any enterprise is given and to all of you I give my hearty thanks.

Nancy Moran.

Crossing Campus Boundary

THIS WEEK:

Allis-Chalmers Strikers...

Voted last week to return to their jobs. They had been out on strike since last April 30th. Still unsettled were union demands for a 25c an hour wage hike, a union shop, and union control of grievance procedure. Robert Buse, union president, declared, "Our fight must now be carried on inside the plant." He said further that the company was "arrogant and despicable" and added that "his union would never surrender." This strike was finally ended by vote of the workers when it was obvious that the union's position had become very weak. Local 248's president, Robert Buse, and Harold Christoffel honorary president of Local 248 were accused of being Communists by Louis Budenz, one time Communist leader. The accusation was made before a house labor committee. A perjury investigation of Buse and Christoffel is being discussed by the committee and Attorney General Clark because these two men had testified under oath before the committee that they were not Communists. Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson...

Has declared that United States aid to Greece does not include troops. Mr. Acheson also declared that:

Aid to Greece is not an act which will lead to war. Our military missions will be small ones.

Letters to the Editor

Interested Spectator Sounds Off on Follies

Letter to the Editor:

It is not often that a group on the Lawrence college campus actually undertakes too much in the way of social activities, but a hectic Saturday evening has proved this to be the case of the Mace-Mortar Board Follies.

As the plans went, the affair was arranged and organized nicely, but the trouble seemed to be that of carrying out these over-ambitious plans. In the past few years this annual affair has never been a complete success, although it reached its climax Saturday evening.

In 1945 the booths failed because of their insufficiency; in 1946 the skits failed because of the facilities. While it may have seemed an excellent idea to combine the two entertainments in a different location, it should be seen now that it is too much.

There is no reason why two such strong groups as Mortar Board and Mace could not sponsor two play-nights a year, and make each a separate success. The booths alone would keep us all busy for an evening, especially with the music that was provided for dancing. A carnival or street-dance would be ideal for spring.

On a second night, in the fall perhaps, the use of the chapel could be provided for sororities, fraternities and independents to show their ability in skits. Surely it is realized that most of the humor Saturday night was lavished on the first two rows of the audience. Provided with the proper facilities, correct timing and a properly-spirited audience, an evening of only skits could be enjoyable for all.

It is with the thought of a better and fairer Mace-Mortar Board Follies that this criticism and suggestion has been submitted.

"Interested."

Give Clothing for Greek War Relief

At a chapter meeting of Eta Sigma Phi, national classical language society, Tuesday evening, it was decided that again this year members of the fraternity would be active in collecting discarded clothing for Greek War Relief.

Boxes will be placed in all the dormitories for the collection. Look over your wardrobes when you are packing for spring vacation and rid yourself of those frayed sweaters and patched trousers for a worthy cause.

Things will be collected from Friday until Wednesday afternoon. Give, won't you?

Heselton Calls Out Huskies For Spring Football Practice

Coach Bernie Heselton has issued a call for spring football practice, scheduled to begin on April 10. All men who intend to take part in the grid sport next fall are expected to report, except those who are engaged in other spring sports.

Prospects for 1947 look good thus far, with a sizable portion of the 1946 championship team returning. However, it will take a lot of talent to replace Dick Miller, Dean Bartosic, Bob Curry, Joe Greco, George Lucht, John Messenger and Boyden Supiano in the Viking lineup.

Although the 1947 scheduled opponents are the same teams the Blue and White faced last year, don't jump to the conclusion that the title is in the bag. Four of six conference games next fall will be played away from home.

Men who plan to take in spring practice are expected to pick up uniforms and gear from Coach Heselton before spring vacation starts next Wednesday.

Badger basketball fans hereabouts certainly got a jolt during the second half of the CCNY affair in New York. After leading 37-27 at half-time by completely outplaying the fast breaking New Yorkers, Wisconsin fell apart at the seams and lost 70-56. . . . The Badgers made a nice comeback against Navy on Saturday night, though. . . . Incidentally, somebody pulled a political boner by running in a fifteen minute program on behalf of one of the candidates for circuit judge in the middle of WBBY's broadcast of the Badger-Navy game. Anyone listening was primarily interested in the outcome of the basketball game and will probably remember the part he missed when he goes to the polls on April 1.

Carl Hubbell, the old meal ticket, says that all-American Charlie Trippi is "the greatest college baseball player of the past 15 years." Lou Boudreau wasn't so bad, either. . . . Red Smith, in a recent "Saturday Evening Post" article, thinks the trouble with the Yankees is McPhail. Could be! Fashion shows and foot races between man and beast never did win baseball games. . . . Rumor has it that George McAfee may exchange his Bear uniform for a business suit next fall. . . . The Lawrence athletic department has requested that all intra-mural tournament activities be wound up before spring vacation. The appeal is directed especially at those competing in badminton, handball and squash.

Best magazine on the market for sport fans is "Sport", a new publication which made its initial appearance last September. Boasting such writers as Grantland Rice, Arch Ward, Bill Brandt, Harry Wismer, Bill Stern, Dan Parker and many others, its sports articles and fiction are varied and the most interesting available to the sports reading public. . . . NCAA boxing finals will be held in Madison tomorrow night. The Badgers have another top-flight squad this year.

Dick Miller won a spot on many all-opponent teams picked by Midwest squads and sports writers this year. Dick was the only senior on the All-Midwest team. The other four members were sophomores.

Lawrence Enters Chicago Relays

Lawrence college will enter a mile relay team in the Chicago Daily News Relays to be held at Chicago stadium tomorrow.

Coach Art Denney announced this week that the team would be chosen from among the following men: Bob Whitelaw, Dick Flom, George VanderWeyden, Reed Forbush, Paul Elsberry and Thornton Lowe.

The Vike runners will compete against North Central college and the University of Miami (Florida). This is the fourth straight year that Lawrence has received an invitation to compete in the Daily News Relays.

NOTICE

All men interested in varsity golf are urged to report to coach Bernie Heselton as soon as possible.

Athletic Schedules Made Up At Directors' Meeting For Coming Sport Events

The 1947-48 basketball schedule and football schedules for 1948, 1949, 1950 and 1951 in the Midwest conference were arranged at the meeting of the Midwest conference athletic directors at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago on March 9, 1947.

Each school will play six football games with conference rivals each year, including four natural rivals, picking up two others for a two year period. Carleton, Grinnell, Ripon and Beloit are classed as Lawrence's natural rivals.

All loop schools will play ten league cage games next winter with the exception of Cornell, which will have eleven, and Grinnell, with thirteen.

Slight changes were made in the plans for the annual Midwest swimming and wrestling meets in order to facilitate smooth functioning of each. Under a new plan, the site of the swimming and wrestling meets will be rotated between Monmouth, Grinnell, Cornell, Carleton, Beloit and Lawrence, the only schools having facilities for both wrestling and swimming.

Delta Gammas Lead Big Field In Basketball

BY JANE BIELEFELD

If you haven't been watching some of the basketball games it's your hard luck. The games have all been good. The K D vs. A D Pi tie game and the Theta vs. Pi Phi game were especially thrilling.

To shorten the length of time of the basketball tournament it has become necessary to play some games on Saturdays. Tomorrow the D Gs will play the Independents at two o'clock and the K Ds will play the Alpha Chis at two forty-five.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

Broadcasting By Students Is Started

Phyllis Wallis and Donald Fischer displayed their talents over WHBY Wednesday night in the first of a series of broadcasts to be presented by the conservatory.

Miss Florence Zuelke is in charge of the planning for the programs. Next Wednesday, April 2, Robert Barnes, Phyllis Wallis, Professor Eugene Kilinski and John Helmer will present a program of Schumann and Brahms.

Come and be S'prised, Kids

"A complete surprise, even to me," says the social chairman of the Independent women about an April Fool's party to be held Monday evening, March 31, upstairs in the Union. All Independent women are urged to come over between seven and nine and see what's doing. This is a unique idea, supposedly; refreshments will be on your own.

Sharpshooters Take Tourney

Earle and Grode Lead Team to Basketball Title; El Toros Take 2nd

The "Sharpshooters" emerged the All College Basketball Champions this past week when they downed the undefeated "El Toros" in the final playoff of the championship rounds by the score of 38 to 33. The scoring by Earle and Grode offset the attack led by the star cager, Don Strutz, for the "El Toros" took claim to the second place honors.

In the final playoffs of the consolation rounds, the "Blue Devils," who were eliminated from the championship rounds by losing to the "Sharpshooters" to the tally of 42 to 36, defeated first the "Aggies" 54 to 25 and then the "Rockets" 21 to 8, to win the third place honors in the tournament. The result of Radtke's high scoring for the "Blue Devils" won him the top position as high scorer for the All College Basketball tournament.

The leading high scorers in the league were as follows:

	FG	FT	Total
Radtke (Blue Devils)	27	6	58
Hunger (Rockets)	21	4	46
Earle (Sharpshooters)	16	7	39
Landsberg (Aggies)	16	6	38
Strutz (El Toros)	14	6	34
Grode (Sharpshooters)	14	2	34
